Working Scientifically Focus Review: use observations and ideas to suggest answers to questions		Conceptual Knowledge Focus identify and compare the suitability of a variety of everyday materials

Example

Children were asked to go on a materials hunt around the school and explain why materials were used for each purpose.

'I think this is because so people can see from it'

Children meeting the objective would be able to explain how the material is suited to its purpose because of its properties, for example, people can see through glass windows or brick walls and metal pipes are waterproof.
